

THINK PERSHING ALREADY MOVING

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—There was no disposition in official quarters today to doubt border dispatches indicating that the northward movement of Maj. Gen. J. J. Pershing's forces from Mexico is now under way. President Wilson has approved the plan to bring the troops out and there have been plain intimations that action would precede any further statement on that subject.

All details of the withdrawal are understood to have been left to Gen. Pershing and Gen. Fournier, already has worked out his plans for distributing the 10,000 or 12,000 men in the expedition at strategic points along the border.

As soon as there are regulars available, the homebound movement of national guardsmen still doing border patrol service will begin. The plan has been to relieve a large part of the guardsmen, if not all of them, immediately.

Troops in Poor Position.
Withdrawal of the Pershing expedition was one of the recommendations of the American members of the new Mexican-American joint commission. It has been advocated for a long time by army officers, who have insisted that the troops were doing no good where they were and what was worse, were in a poor strategic position in case of an attack.

Apparently there is no certainty about when the other step proposed by the commission, the dispatch of an ambassador designate Fletcher to his post at Mexico City, will be carried out. This would mean, establishment of diplomatic relations with Carranza.

DON'T HURT A BIT!

Lift your old, torturous corns and calluses right off with the fingers.

This tiny bottle holds the wonder of wonders. It contains an almost magical drug discovered by a Cincinnati man. It is called Frezzone. It is a compound made from ether.

Apply a few drops of this frezzone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you just lift it off with the fingers.

You feel no pain or soreness when applying Frezzone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin.

Just ask in any drug store for a small bottle of Frezzone. This will cost but a few cents but will positively rid your poor, suffering feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, or the tough calluses on bottom of feet. Genuine Frezzone has a yellow label. Look for yellow label.—Adv.

LOST AMERICAN PILOTS SAVED

Lieut. Robertson Finds Searchers After Lieut. Col. Bishop Succumbs.

Wellton, Ariz., Jan. 20.—Residents of Wellton were watching today for the first sign of the returning army ambulance which crossed the border Friday night to bring back Lieut. Col. Harry G. Bishop, army aviator, who was left Thursday on the Sonora desert while a rescue party brought Lieut. W. Robertson, his fellow officer, on their ill-fated airplane flight to Wellton and summoned aid from Yuma, Ariz., for Bishop. Bishop's weakened condition, due to exposure to the elements and the fact he had gone four days without food or water before he was found by rescuers after his grueling march of almost 200 miles from a point on the Gulf of California, where the aviators landed, was a source of apprehension.

Robertson Goes to San Diego.
Lieut. Robertson, who arrived here with a searching party from Wellton, which he found in the desert 22 miles south of here, was today on the way to San Diego, Calif., from which city the Salmer and Arizona flying company flight to Calexico and were caught in a stiff north wind that carried them several hours off their course and on to the Sonora desert.

It was Robertson's good fortune to overtake a searching party sent out by the Salmer and Arizona flying company from Ajo, Ariz. It had been delayed by trouble with its automobile.

Bishop Gave Up Struggle.
Bishop, no longer able to walk, finally gave up the struggle to walk back to civilization last Wednesday and urged Robertson, the latter said, to go on and send back aid if he could. Robertson continued in his course northward along the base of the Guadalupe mountains and found the searching party as he was almost exhausted. He directed them to the mountain pass where Bishop had lain for 24 hours, almost famished for lack of food and water and chilled by the biting cold. His clothing was drenched by the desert rains which continued the greater part of the nine days the two men were lost on the desert.

Airplane Broke Propeller.
The airplane, which tipped and broke a propeller when the two landed on the Gulf coast, was abandoned. Robertson said it could be recovered. So the two men, who had been taken by the military authorities to have the machine brought out of Mexico.

WITHDRAWAL IS UP TO PERSHING

Expedition Commander Can Fix Time of Departure; Leave South Posts.

Gen. J. J. Pershing will begin his march to the border from Mexico as soon as he has made all preliminary arrangements and is ready for the movement of the punitive expedition, according to a report here Saturday. According to this same report, a message passed through here to Gen. Pershing from department headquarters in San Antonio Saturday asking Gen. Pershing when he would be ready to move, and practically putting it up to him to fix the date for his troops to march northward after more than ten months in Mexico.

Abandon Posts.

The punitive expedition is abandoning the posts south of Colonia Dublan and concentrating at the Colonia Dublan headquarters in preparation for the withdrawal of the American expedition from Mexico, according to reliable advices received here from both American and Mexican sources. According to these advices, El Valle, where the southern lines of the punitive expedition are located, is being abandoned as well as the camp at San Joaquin and Charcos.

The Sixth and the Sixteenth United States infantry regiments, the Fifth cavalry and a battalion of the Fourth artillery have been stationed at El Valle and are among the troops being concentrated at Colonia Dublan, according to word reaching the border. El Valle is 85 miles south of Colonia Dublan.

San Joaquin Abandoned.

San Joaquin, a sub-base 30 miles north of El Valle, which is also reported as being abandoned by the American troops, was the headquarters of two battalions of the 17th infantry. Charcos, the third point reported as being abandoned, is located 60 miles south of Colonia Dublan and was garrisoned by a war strength company of the 24th infantry.

The heavy equipment and supplies of these forces will be transported to the border over the Northern Western railway. It is said. The North Western's rolling stock has been placed at the disposal of the punitive expedition and trains will probably be loaded near Casas Grandes. The equipment will be transported by truck trains from El Valle, San Joaquin and Charcos to the railroad.

Empty Trucks Go South.

One hundred and seventy empty trucks left Columbus, Mo., Friday for Pershing's headquarters. Their purpose was to bring back "excess equipment," officers said. In some of the storage quarters have been provided here to receive the supplies.

All officers and men of the Pershing expedition, returning to Columbus from leave of absence and furlough, are being held here for further orders.

Trucks to El Valle.

It was reported to Gen. Jose Maria Cuatrecasas at Juarez, by the Carrancista command at Casas Grandes, Saturday morning that a train of empty army trucks belonging to the American expedition had passed near Casas Grandes. It is believed that these trucks are to be used in transporting the equipment of the American troops stationed at El Valle to Colonia Dublan.

GENERAL WARNS AGAINST DRINK

In order to protect soldiers of the El Paso district against operations of a combination of crooks in El Paso, Gen. George Bell, Jr., has issued a general order to the troops cautioning them against drinking intoxicants with strangers. The order resulted from several cases in which soldiers have been "doped" and robbed by persons dressed in military uniform and who are not soldiers. Gen. Bell's caution reads:

"All soldiers of this command are hereby warned against drinking with strangers, or in places of ill repute. Several incidents of this nature have recently come to light. Men in soldier's uniforms, who are taken by crooks, are invited to take a friendly drink. The liquor is 'DOPED'.

"Some time later the victim wakes up, generally at the police station, and finds that the crooks have taken all his money or valuables."

The warning is being read at reveille call to all organizations in this district.

RECRUITING POST FOR ARMY IS OPENED AT EL PASO

The recruiting officer for the new El Paso recruiting district has opened an office in rooms 101 and 102, Herald building, El Paso, Texas.

The El Paso district takes in all of Texas west of the 100th meridian and all of the state of New Mexico. Auxiliary stations will be opened in the principal railroad centers of the district.

In order to facilitate the recruitment of the army to its proper strength the war department is desirous of establishing a recruiting agency in each county seat in the United States, and in such cities as may promise satisfactory results. The war department believes that this object can best be obtained through the aid of postmasters, acting as recruiting agents.

For every recruit for the army, through the postmaster of a second, third or fourth class post office, a bonus or fee of $5 to such postmaster, as soon as the recruit shall have been actually enlisted in the army.

The station is in charge of Capt. William L. Lowe, assisted by Capt. F. W. Fonda and Lieut. J. N. McNeill. Capt. Lowe was formerly a newspaper man in Texas.

ONE TRAIN ARRIVES.

A trainload of copper ore, consigned to the Boston Mining company, reached the El Paso customs port.
